RAPID TRANSIT NORTHWARD. THE ROUTES NOW BUILDING-BY RAIL TO JEROMI PARK-CONNECTIONS WITH THE ROUTES OF THE

PARK—CONNECTIONS WITH THE ROUTES OF THE MANHATTAN COMPANY.

Residents of the annexed districts and adjacent portions of Westelester County for twelve or fiften years have been dependent for communication with this vity upon the New-York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, which controls the Harlem Road, the only route by rail into NewYork from the North. Efforts to persnade the New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company to become a rival in the interests of residents were not successful, and all hope then centred in the rapid-transit schemes. With the progress and completion of the lines on the East and West sides the hopes of the "commuters" revived.
There have been various plans and various commismons, but only one of the routes laid out by the first commission has been taken by a company. On this, however, actual work has been begun. It is what is called the Harlem River, Kingsbridge and Riverdale route, running from the Harlem River, oppomite Eighth-ave., and along the original route of the New-York, Boston and Montreal Railroad to and no Sawmill River Valley. The company how preparing to operate this road from the Harlem River to the northern limits of the city is called the West Side and Youkers.

This company has the right to build a bridge across the Harlem River to connect with the elevated road in Eighth-ave. The contractors for the foundations for the bridge piers have until October 1 to complete their work, but it will be so arranged that by the time the stonework is completed the ironwork will be so far constructed that only the draw of the bridge will be unfinished. The roadbed is ready, and rails are laid for some distance apon the route toward Mosholu. Preparations are making to transfer passengers by boat across the Harlem River from the Eighth-ave. road until the bridge is finished. This road will cross the track the bridge is finished. This road will cross the track of the Hudson River Railroad at fourteen feetabove trade.

The dissatisfaction with the work of the first rapid transit Commission, and the belief that its members had exceeded their powers, led to the application for the second Commission. This was composed of a number of wealthy men, some of whom owned estates near the Sound, and in order that they might reap a portion of the benefit accruing from a new road, laid out a route from Port Morris northward, in the eastern portion of the annexed district. This was unsatisfactory to many business men who still had no means of reaching these routes, and were no nearer rapid transit than before 1 and a third Commission was applied for, the main work of which was to fix upon what is called the East Side route, running from the Harlem Bridge in Third-ave. northward, and crossing much private property. This route interfered with many beer vaults in that neighborhood, cut in the rocks at great expense, and the owners and their neighbors were greatly opposed to it. The fourth and latest Commission altered this East Side route until it was more satisfactory, and connected it with the one building on the West Side by a loop running from near Jerome Station around Jerome Park, and southwest to connect with the West Side and Yonkers Road, at a point not far from the Harlem River. The first work upon this route was begun on Monday, April 19, on the portion extending from the Harlem Railroad, near Jerome Station, to Jerome Park. It is proposed to complete this in time for the Spring meeting at Jerome Park, and so the resident of the visitors. One hundred Italians will be operated by the Suburban Rapid Transit Company. The design for connection with the existing lines of rapid transit on this side of the Harlem River, on the east side of the city, includes a bridge over the river either at Second-ave, or between Second and Third-aves, at which the lines of both the existing roads will meet, connecting with the one line beyon A BIGAMIST NOT EASILY CAUGHT.

A BIGAMIST NOT EASILY CAUGHT.

District-Attorney Petty. of Suffolk County. L. I., last week learned that William H. Barto, an allered bigamist, who escaped from the custedy of Constable Robbins at Amityville, early in 1877, was at Lake Grove, working for a wheelwright named Boice. Justice Capen issued a warrant for his rearrest, and Constable Connelius started to affect his arrest. He visited Lake frove twice, but was deceived, as alleged, by Boice and others as to Barto's situasion, and was forced to return to Amityville without his man. On Saturday he tried again, being satisfied that Barto was still at Lake Grove. After an unsuccessful search of Boice's premises, surmising that Barto had started to take the train on the Port Jefferson branch of the Long Island Railroad at Smithtown, he started in pursuit, and was in time to hold the train. The conductor waited a few moments for Cornelius to go through the cars, and Barto was found in one of them. He was handcuffied and taken from the train, and the officer arrived at Amityville with him about 8 o'clock at night. Cornelius took him to his house to remain until morning, but Barto preferred other company. Taking advantage of the courtesy of the officer in permitting him the use of his hands while eating his supper, he suddenly darted out doors, and, aithough Cornelius quickly followed and put forth his best speed, Barto distanced him and was soon in the woods. Up to the present time he has succeeded in eluding pursuit. It is believed he has left Suffolk County.

A CONTEST BY NOTED PEDESTRIANS. Previous to his departure for Chicago Daniel O'Leary, who has made $75,000 by his pedestrian contests, deposited with F. Queen $500 and the following challenge:

following challenge:

Being desirous of satisfying myself as to the correctness of my belief that I have the best two long-distance "go-as-you-please" pedestrians in the world, I hereby challenge any two men in England to make a match with Francis Hart, of Boston, and John Dobler, of Chicago, upon these conditions: The match to be for any sum that may be agreed upon, from $10,000 to $20,000 a side. The race to be a "go-as-you-please," under the O'Leary belt rules, for 142 consecutive hours, and to take place in New-York City three months from signing articles of agreement. This challenge will remain open for two months from April 13. Inclosed please flud $500 forfeit to prove that I mean business. A letter of acceptance, accompanied by articles of agreement and a forfeit of $500 will receive immediate attention.

It is expected that Rowell, Brown and Hazael

It is expected that Rowell, Brown and Hazael will accept the challenge. Thomas Davis, lately the backer of Peter J. Panchot, with two other men in this city, has decided to accept the challenge. They have communicated with Rowell and Brown, who have sutherized them to arrange the match for $10.000 a side, Rowell to back himself for one-third the amount. Rowell and Brown are to draw up articles, which are to be forwarded to O'Leary for his approval.

SUICIDE OF A SOLDIER.

A man who said he had been discharged from the United States Army took lodgings at the Marion House, No. 60 East Broadway, early in February last, giving his name as Thomas McGlinn. He was of middle age, single and eccentric in his liabits, and was constantly imagining that he was watched by enemies. On the last day of February he attempted suicide in his room by shooting himself twice in the head and then cutting his throat. The pistol shot wounds were too superficial to be dangerous, but the wound in his throat proved fatal after weeks of suffering. He died at the New-York Hospital yesterday. A balance of $600 of money which he placed in charge of the hotel clerk remains to pay his funeral expenses. It is not known that he had any relatives living. SUICIDE OF A SOLDIER.

POLLUTING A CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

POLLUTING A CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

The aqueduct water in Newark for several days has been peculiarly offenerve in taste and smell, and universal complaint was made. On Saturday the superintendent of the Aqueduct Board, accompanied by Commissioner Smith, proceeded to the sources of the water supply to make an investigation. At Third River they found that the taste and odor to the water had been caused by carbolic paper manufactured at this point by Kingsland & Co. Recently a large quantity of the paper which contains a powerful odor of the acid, was soaked in the Yantacan pond, near the mills, and the impregnated water was allowed to flow into the Passaic, contaminating the stream the whole distance to the Belleville Water-works, which supply Newark with aqueduct water.

HARTMANN, THE NIHILIST, NOT HERE. HARTMANN, THE NIHILIST, NOT HERE.

A statement appeared yesterday that Hartmann, the Russian Nihilist, arrived in this city on Saturday in one of the European steamers. The Socialists in this city denied yesterday that Hartmann was here. One of them said that a communication from England on Saturday stated that Hartmann was in Loudon, and was likely to remain there. Justus Schwab said: "If Hartmann were in the city he would be with me to-day. I am positive that he is not so foolish as to come to America, where, for a few dollars, he would be delivered over to the authorities and taken back to Russia. I am acquainted with some personal friends of Hartmann, and if he were here they would know of it. I am sure he is not in this country."

KEEPING A CHURCH FREE FROM DEBT. KEEPING A CHURCH FREE FROM DEBT.

The annual report of the Fourteenth Street Presbyterian Church, issued yesterday, shows that the "weekly offerings" which have been made by the congregation during the past year have kept the church free from debt, and no extra subscription for church support has been asked. By continuing the system the committee believe that the church will soon be known throughout the Presbytery as the one which has solved the troblesome problem, "How can a down-town church hold its place in this city as a self-supporting organization where any one of the Lord's people, rich or poor, may worship with profit and delight!" the system the committee believe that the church will soon be known throughout the Presbytery as the one which has solved the troublesome problem. BAD RESULTS OF A DOG'S BITE.

Ratile Gilway, seventeen years of age, the daughter of Robert Gilway, of Steinway Village, Long Island City, was bitten about four weeks ago by a specified on the surface of the surfac dog belonging to a man named Bliss, a grocer of the village. The wound rapidly healed, and nothing more was thought of the matter until Friday last, when Miss Gilway was seized with the symptoms of hydrophobia. She finally became so violent that Drs. Taylor and Mulot had to be called in. Yesterday her condition was precarious. The dog has been killed.

MR. BEECHER ON THE SOUTHERN NEGROES.

In announcing a collection for the American Missionary Association in Plymouth Church yesterday morning, Mr. Beecher spoke of the work of that body among the colored people. He said that it was many years since that work was begun by sending missionaries to Africa when work among the negroes in this country was forbidden. "The young people here cannot recall it." he said, "but it was a comparatively short period ace when it was a penitentiary effence to teach the Africans in the South to read, and to give them any knowledge of the Bible; but we older ones have lived through it. In the time of that Babylonian darkness the American Missionary Association was formed to preach the gospel to those in bondage. It is impossible to force four million people who were slaves up into equality with their masters. There is no leverage which can get them up at once or hold them there. The law of moral cravitation will act, Giving the suffrage and epportunity to learn to the colored people does not make them equal to the white feiks. You can't turn a fool into a philosopher, or make half-cultured men equal to cultured. Shiftless, careless men cannot in a moment be turned into frugal, careful and prindent. They will not be so any sooner than they are so. Educate and train men and they are brought up by natural laws. But we ask that the colored man may stand where he may have opportunity to do what he is fit to do. That is the democratic polity of this country. Let a man be educated, emancipated and trained in his moral faculties. That is the Christian work of all age-s; to lift men higher than they are; to swell the amount of their manhood.

"The American Missionary Association has training schools for teachers in many Southern States, instructors are busy in the work, and the schools are full; but still the cry is for more teachers of their own color. The hunger of the African for knowledge is one of the most affecting things in my time. They desire to learn to read, to know MR. BEECHER ON THE SOUTHERN NEGROES.

STABBED AT THE DOOR OF A BARROOM.

The liquor store at No. 40 Chrystie-st., kept by Mrs. Laug, was filled with half-drunken men and women at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. As liquor was sold there in violation of the law, the front door of the saloon was closed and the customers had to enter and go out by a rear door, opening into a dark hall. The tenement in the rear of the saloon is occupied by persons of the vilest sort, and the police say that robberies and assaults are committed in the ball of the liquor store nearly every night. About 3:40 a. m. three laborers, named J. W. Beattie, Francis Bunger and Jesse Edwards, left the saloon together, and were conducted to the ballway by Mrs. Lang. They were much intoxicated, and one of them fell against a small but muscular young man who had knocked at the door of the saloon and was waiting to be admitted. A quarret was caused by the accident, and Edwards seized the young man by the shoulder and attempted to strike him. He fell back against Bunger with a groan, and Bunger, thinking that his comrade had been struck in the face, put out his arm to prevent a second blow. He felt the blade of a knife got through the muscles of his arm, and he creed out "I am stabbed." A dozen men came stumbling out of the saloon to see the end of the affray, and in the tumult the young man who had done the stabbing escaped. Bunger and Edwards went to the Eldridge Street Police Station, and an ambulance was summoned, Bunger's wound was found to be a painful but not serious one, and he was sent to his home at No. 34 Chrystie-st. Edwards was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital, and afterward transferred to the New-York Hospital, an STABBED AT THE DOOR OF A BARROOM.

A CLERGYMAN TO BE PLACED ON TRIAL.

The Northern Reformed Presbytery of New-York, which began a special session on Friday in the Twelfth Street Reformed Presbyterian Church, continued its investigation Saturday, of the charges of immoral and contamacions conduct against the Rev. Nevin Woodside, preferred by the Pittsburg Reformed Presbytery. On Friday the charges were referred to a committee, consisting of the Rev. A. G. Wylie, the Rev. William Wylle and Elder John Londen, with orders to report to the session Saturday. The Rev. John H. Kendall, the Moderator, and the Rev. W. J. McDowell, the clerk, were present. The report of the committee stated the charges brought against the Rev. Mr. Woodside by the Pittsburg Reformed Presbytery and the First Reformed Presbyterian Church of Pittsburg. The charges allege that the Rev. Mr. Woodside took charge of the church in deliance of the Presbytery; that he told wilful and deliberate falsehoods; that he incited riot in the charch on a Sunday, and that he falsely stated that his former charge, the Duffield Street Church of Brocklyn, was in a flourishing condition. The committee recommended that the clergyman be placed on trial in the Twelfth Street Church on May 4.

The Rev. Mr. Woodside stated that he had testimony in his possession to prove that the laid on the table. He declared that the charges were talse, and while reading documents to support his motion, he was interrupted by the Rev. William Wylie, who said that Mr. Woodside was anticipating his trial. The report of the committee was finally adopted. A CLERGYMAN TO BE PLACED ON TRIAL.

CARING FOR HEBREW ORPHANS.

The fifty-seventh annual meeting of the Hebrew Benevolent and Orphan Asylum was held yesterday at the asylum, and the following officers were elected: Jesse Seligman, president; Henry Rice, vice-president; Morris Rindskoff, treasurer; Aaron Wolff, ir., and August Lewis, trustees for one year; G. M. Leventritt, Morris Tuska, Henry Newman, Henry Neustader, Herman Bamberger and Simon Schafer, trystees for three years. There are 308 children in the male and female departments. The increase of assets during the year was over $48,000. A new feature has been introduced, "The Orphan Asylum Memorial Fund," which was started by a gait of $300 from the Rev. Dr. Gottheil and wife. The amounts contributed are to be invested by the trustees, and only the interest is to be applied for the maintenance of the asylum. For the want of room many applications for the admission of orphans have been denied, and it is proposed to procure more suitable grounds and erect more ample buildings. Should the subscriptions for this purpose be insufficient, it is intended to hold a fair for the purpose of raising funds. During the year the society has received a legacy of $25,000 by the will of Michael Reese, and $2,313 from a policy upon the lafe of William Leidenberg, a patron. CARING FOR HEBREW ORPHANS.

PREACHING TO MILITIAMEN.

By invitation of General E. L. Molineux, the Rev. Newland Maynard, rector of St. Paul's Church, Brooklyn, and senior Chaplain in the Eleventh Brigade, preached last evening to the officers of the brigade on the subject, "A Sense of Duty the Secret of all Success," The text was found in Colossians iti., 23: "And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men." Unquestioning obedience to the sense of duty, said the preacher, is the only road to thoroughness. A miscrable spectacle is the vacillating man, and a wretched object of pity is he who hesitates when called upon to act. There can be no vacillation where the man acts solely from a sense of duty. Society to-day, and all organizations, civil or military, would be as unstable as water without this sentiment of obedience to duty. There can be no success in life where it is wanting. It is the deathknell and shipwreck of all movements where ignored. It is by attending truly to his responsibilities that a man gathers strength and manhood. The sense of duty is a law that connects man with God—written on the soul as the decalogue was written on the tablets. PREACHING TO MILITIAMEN.

A MISSING SHIP-BROKER'S BODY FOUND.

The drowned body of John A. Jannsen, the ship-broker, of No. 89 Beaver-st., New-York, who has been missing since March 15, was found yesterday in the East River at the foot of Kent-st. Brooklyn. A small boy playing in the vicinity discovered the body and informed the police. It had been for a long time in the water and was altogether unrecognizable. In the pockets Mr. Jannsen's card and a five-dollar bill were found. He was last seen on March 15, by Thomas Quigley, a stevedore, at No. 192 Pearl-st., New-York. Mr. Jannsen was in good spirits, and so successful in business that he had cleared $2.000 the month before. He parted with Quigley in Canal-st. and took a crosstown car to Graud-street Ferry, presumably on his way to his home, at No. 714 Lafayette-ave., Brooklyn. A reward of $5,000 for information in regord to him was offered and every effert put forth to find him. He left a wife and a mother.

The police informed the friends yesterday and the body was taken to the Morgue, notice being given to the Coroner. A MISSING SHIP-BROKER'S BODY FOUND.

NEW-YORK CITY.

From April 1 to Saturday evening the total num-ber of visitors to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, without counting the children, has been 124,247. The gas from the snoke-stacks of the engines on the Third Avenue Elevated Road is almost stifling at times. It is especially disagreeable at the City Hall station, where there is at least one engine all the

Half a dozen urchins of an average age of about ten years were having a "walking match" in Frankfort-st, vesterday afternoon, greatly to the interest of a crowd of boys gathered around, one of whom marked the "laps" in chalk on the iron door of one of the large warehouses.

Although the weather was damp and chilly yesterday, a large number of persons visited Central Park. In the morning especially the walks were throughd with people who had left the close quarters of the tenement-houses to seek wholesome air in the upper part of the city.

The steams in Herder, which arrived here from Hamburg and Hawre Thursday, has been undergoing extensive repairs and alterations during the last three mouths. The kitchens have been transferred three months. The kitchens have been transferred to the upper deck, and spacious sitting and smoking rooms have been built on the same deck.

The physicians connected with Bellevue Hospital for the last three years have been trying to have additions made to the main building, for the purpose of separating the wards from all connection with the sewers. The city has slowly given money sufficient to build four of these pavilions. There are to be seven in all.

The house of the Williamsburg Yacht Club, at the foot of Eagle-st., was entered by burglars Saturday night, and sails and rigging valued at $560 were stolen. The thieves gained access to the building by a boat. One of them, named "Dutch," was arrested by Officer Walsh, of the Twenty-lirst Precinet, New-York, and the property was recovered.

Walter Parsley, a boy of three years, living at No. 232 Bergen-st., on his return from Sunday-school yesterday afternoon was run over by a street car at Fifth-ave and Bergen-st. The wheel of the car passed over his left leg and stripped the flesh from the bone, from the knee to the ankle. The boy was taken home. The car was No. 206, of the Fifth-ave, line, and was driven by John Stone.

To the Honorable William E. Dodge. DEAR SIR:

The great changes in our city during your long and sothe husiness career are but little understood and almost for-gotten. With the details of these changes during the last sixty years you are especially familiar. Many incidents and reminiscences are known to you which would be of great interest to us.

We learn with pleasure you have been induced to write out many of your recollections as a citizen and merchant during this eventful period. We beg you will name some evening at an early date when we can listen to a lecture from you upon the changes through which the New-York of your boyhood has become the New-York of to day. We are, very truly, Your friends and fellow citizens,
